

Isabelle White is very excited and honored to be in Montenegro as a Fulbright Fellow.

Isabelle received her PhD from the University of Kentucky and is Professor Emeritus at Eastern Kentucky University in Richmond, KY. At ECU, she has taught many different courses in American Literature and in Women's Studies.

She directed the Women's Studies Program for six years, and she was honored to be named Foundation Professor. She has published several articles and two chapters in books, and has done numerous presentations at professional meetings.

She recently taught English conversation in China for a year.

Isabelle is married to John Carter, who has come to Montenegro with her, and she has one daughter, Alexandra, who graduated from college last year and is eager to visit Montenegro later this year.

Izabel Vajt izražava čast što je Fulbrajtova stipendista u Crnoj Gori.

Izabel Vajt ima titulu doktora nauka sa Univerziteta u Kentakiju i počasnu titulu Profesor Emeritus sa Istočnog Kentaki Univerziteta u Ričmondu, SAD. Predavala je različite predmete u oblasti Američke Literature i Ženskih Studija.

Šest godina je bila rukovodilac Ženskih Studija i dobila je nagradu Profesora Osnivača. Izabela je izdala nekoliko članaka i dva poglavlja u knjigama i često prezentuje svoj rad.

Skoro se vratila iz Kine, gdje je provela godinu dana i predavala Konverzaciju engleskog jezika. Izabel je udana za Džona Kartera, on je u Crnoj Gori sa njom, a njena ćerka Aleksandra, koja je prošle godine diplomirala, takođe planira posjetu Crnoj Gori tokom ove godine.